

Fok Chiu Pang
3B (4)
CCC Ming Yin College

Dragon Slayer

The Hong Kong Observatory has just issued the typhoon signal No. 10. They say it's the strongest typhoon in the history of Hong Kong. Everyone is staying at home but I am going to a convenience store nearby with my sister Alice to get some noodles for our supper.

On our way to the convenience store, the winds are blowing vigorously with rain and thunder crashing as if the weather is throwing a tantrum.

"Oh, we'd better speed up or we'll get soaked completely." I urge Alice. She nods and we stride towards the convenience store hard with our umbrella bending.

Just when we are about to arrive at the convenience store, we hear something growling creepily and dreadfully. I peek into the source of the sound and I can see a gigantic and fearsome shape!

"What's that?" I murmur in astonishment.

"I'd like to know. It's getting closer!" replies Alice.

As the enormous and far-out creature is approaching, its outline becomes clearer.

"You must be kidding me," I whisper with my legs starting to shake uncontrollably. "Dragons only exist in video games or sci-fi films ..."

The sinister dragon which is fifty times as big and able to eat us up in one mouthful, has two golden eyes, black scales as dark as coals and sharp teeth and claws.

"Who are you, Dragon?" My voice is trembling. "Did you cause the typhoon?"

"I am Balerion the dominator of seas and oceans," replies the dragon, billowing water out from its nostrils. "I am here to conquer the world! I'll eat the girl and you for my snacks!"

"No, this can't happen! Run! Run! Alice, run!" I yelled desperately. "as fast as you can!"

Despite our struggles, we are caught and Balerion holds us tightly in its claw.

"You look scrumptious." chuckles Balerion.

As it holds us in the air, opening its giant mouth and gets ready to eat us, a voice is heard.

"Do you want the power which can save both Alice's and your lives, Philip?"

"You are..."

"I'm Poseidon god of the Sea. I can give you the power provided you promise me one thing,"

"What do you want?"

"You have to use the power to kill all the hazardous dragons which have supernatural powers in the world so as to keep peace."

"Okay, I promise: I'll slay all the dragons!"

Instantly, a power is flowing inside my body. "Ahhhhh!" I shout and get rid of Balerion's claw, descending onto the ground with Alice.

"Now, I've acquired Poseidon's power. Get ready to die, Balerion!" I announce in rage. "Mighty god, please grant me the power!"

I call a trident and cast it towards Balerion and it roars painfully.

"Noooo! I can't be overwhelmed now!"

As soon as it gets the lethal blow, Balerion is knocked unconscious and lies on the ground. It vanishes a while later.

"Eureka!" I high-five Alice. "Okay. It's high time that we got the food and returned home ASAP." The sky becomes calm again.

Can you believe that? I've met a dragon which causes the advent of the super typhoon Balerion but it has been slain by me with my ultimate power. In order to keep my promise to Poseidon, I set off my journey to slay all the wicked and nasty dragons...